Birding Florida

The state of Florida has always attracted birders, starting with John James Audubon, for its diverse populations of species found nowhere else.

The second edition (1947) of Peterson's Field Guide to the Birds featured a separate page of "Florida Specialties". The state is also on the eastern flyway for migrants from the Caribbean and Central America. Release and escape of exotic species has added to the unique number of birds that can be added to your life list. - Ron Force -

November Program

Date: November 12 Tuesday
Time: 7:00 p.m.
Place: Lutheran Church of the Master, 4800 N. Ramsey, CDA

Program: "Birding Florida: Miami to the Dry Tortugas"

In the Spring of 2018, Ron Force joined a birding tour to look for the "Florida Specialties", resident birds, migrants, and exotics in south Florida and the Florida Keys. He'll show pictures of the many species he saw, and discuss conservation practices and challenges in Florida in an era of climate change and population growth.

CdA Audubon Garage Sale
Janet Callen -- Sept. 28, 2019

Neither rain, nor snow will keep determined garage-sale helpers from accomplishing their task. It rained, the wind blew and then it snowed. With a little help from three space heaters we sorted and re-priced and re-arranged as items went out. Continued on page 2
Valerie Zagar sat at the front taking the money with a small space heater at her shoulder and snow blowing in her face and her fingers freezing. Jan Severtson, Jackie Beery, Dick and Antje arranged and re-arranged and talked with customers as items went out. Dick brought sandwiches for lunch and the day got colder. Surprisingly we had a fairly good turnout from the die-hard yard-sales shoppers. All in all it was a pretty good yard-sale day, and we cleared a few dollars over $500.

Ellie Emm was fantastic help on Friday as she sorted and priced and so were Judy Waring, Carolyn Lewis and Vera Taggart. We quit about 2:00 in the afternoon, with the garage cleaned out. Leftovers from Saturday’s sale went to newly-ginnings and Habitat for Humanity. I am going to personally award Valerie the North Idaho Yard-Sale Tough-person Award. We had a good variety of contributions and many thanks to everyone who contributed. Books again were very popular. And before I forget, many thanks to our organizer extraordinaire, Antje Cripe. We would have fallen apart without her.

7 Simple Ways to Help Birds

From Cornell Lab of Ornithology

1. Make Windows Safer, Day and Night - Simple adjustments to your windows can save birds' lives.
2. Keep Cats Indoors - Indoor cats live longer, healthier lives. Outdoor cats kill more birds than any other non-native threat.
3. Reduce Lawn by Planting Native Species - The U.S. has 63 million acres of lawn. That's a huge potential for supporting wildlife.
4. Avoid Pesticides - Look for organic food choices and cut out some of the 1 billion pounds of pesticides used in the U.S. each year.
5. Drink Coffee that's good for Birds - Shade-grown coffees are delicious, economically beneficial to farmers, and help more than 42 species of North American songbirds.
6. Protect Our Planet From Plastics - 91% of plastics are not recycled, and they take 400 years to degrade.
7. Watch Birds, Share What You See - Bird watchers are one of science's most vital sources of data on how the ecological world is faring. Take part in Citizen Science projects and report sightings on eBird.
